CITY ASSESSOR DISTRIBUTING TAX BLANKS TO TAXPAYERS

City Assessor Harney Began His Work This Morning So That All Returns Can Be In His Office Within the Time Limit.

City Assessor Harney began his work in making up the 1919 assessment this morning when he began distributing among the taxpayers of the city assessment blanks which they will be required to fill out and return to his office.

In the past the city assessor has called at the home and has taken the assessment as given in by the property owners but this year each taxpayer will be required to fill out his own blank and swear to it before the assessor.

The work can be greatly expedited if the taxpayers will act promptly upon the receipt of their blank. They should be filled out as soon as received and held in readiness for their return so that there will be no delay. Mr. Harney expects to have the city covered with the blanks within a very short time or before the first of April, at which time, under the law, he is required to begin the collection of the blanks and begin making the assessment.

OFFICIALS AT CAPITAL FIND LICENSE FRAUDS

Five-Ton Trucks Reported As Fords In Kentucky.

Frankfort, Ky., March 24.—Flagrant frauds in applications for automobile licenses are making their appearance as the field force of the department is beginning to get in its work.

The number of five-ton trucks running about Kentucky carrying Ford license tags must be large; for a dozen already have paid their $75 license fee, and taken their $6 numbers off their machines.

A "hook" showed up at Camp Knox when the officer supervising work there sent in a list of numbers for the purpose of ascertaining whether the truck capacity was as represented.

Many were listed in the automobile office as small horsepower runabouts and touring cars.

A LETTER TO MY PATRONS

Dear Madam:

It is necessary to answer, "I do," when the minister says: "Do you promise to love, honor and obey?" Of course, you believe in this convention, being a happily married woman, but if you had been bound in marriage to a man who not only neglected you but who gave the best and the worst there was in him to his gay friends, would you hesitate after his death to enter the bonds of matrimony again?

This is the question which is brought up for serious discussion in the latest William Fox photoplay, "The Strange Woman," in which Gladys Brockwell is the star.

"The Strange Woman" refuses to be managed by a wedding ceremony to the young American architect with whom she falls desperately in love. She comes to America with him and in an Iowa town meets women who would denounce her, but she shows that on her side is purity of thought and purity of action, while on theirs is only a hypocritical, false, deceitful marriage state. This play will hold you and give you something to think about.

The stage version, written by William J. Hurlbut, ran for an entire season in New York, and later duplicated its tremendous success on the road. One million copies of the novelized version of the play were sold.

I feel sure that I have in "The Strange Woman" an attraction that you would regret missing, and I take the liberty of suggesting that you get your seats early to avoid the inconvenience of waiting for the next show.

Yours faithfully,
CHARLES TRIEBEL, Manager
Pastime Theater.

SAYS JIMMIE BROWN HAS SEEN IT ALL AND KNOWS

Ludwell Mills Returned Home Sunday Night After Many Months Overseas—Says Maysville Man Is Qualified to Talk About the Great War.

Sergeant Ludwell Mills, of this city, who for several months was overseas with the American Expeditionary Forces, surprised his folks and arrived in Maysville Sunday night. It was not thought that Sergeant Mills would get back to Maysville for several days yet.

He is here on only a thirty-day furlough and will have to return to his company at an Eastern camp as soon as that time expires. Mr. Mills has had a wonderful experience and tells interestingly of it but he says the Maysville people should wait until "Jimmie" Brown gets back to hear the news of the war for he says that there's no man in the entire army who has seen more service than has "Jimmie" and that there is no man more qualified to tell about it.

Lud says that he saw "Jimmie" Brown in France some time ago and that army life has greatly agreed with him for he is much stouter and much more healthy in every way than he was when at home here.

ENGINEER HEFLIN MAY BE INTERNALLY INJURED

Maysville Man Injured When Boiler Of His Engine On C. & O. Railroad Exploded Sunday Morning—May Be More Seriously Injured Than Thought.

Mr. James "Mike" Hefflin, of this city, engineer on the C. & O. railroad was injured early Sunday morning when the boiler on his engine exploded when near South Portsmouth. Just the seriousness of his injuries are not now known but the physicians seem to think that he might be injured internally and another X-ray examination will be taken this afternoon.

Mr. Hefflin's fireman, a Mr. Frost, was probably fatally injured while the other members of the crew were only slightly injured. Both Mr. Hefflin and Mr. Frost were taken to a hospital in Portsmouth, Ohio, where they are now being cared for.

The conductor on the damaged train passed through Maysville this morning on another train and while here talked with Mr. Hefflin's mother, Mrs. Mary Hefflin, of Fifth street, telling her that the examination of her son made by surgeons on Sunday was not satisfactory and that the examination would be made again today.

"Mike's many Maysville friends hope that his injuries will not prove very serious and that he will be himself again in a very short time.

FRAIL, DELICATE CHILD

Restored to Health by Vinol

Manville, R. I. — "The whooping cough, and later the measles left my little boy of eight years with no appetite, thin, frail, delicate and tired all the time. After everything else had failed Vinol gave him a hearty appetite, restored his strength and he is now as well as ever."—Mrs. James H. Hall.

The beef and cod liver peptones iron and manganese peptones and glycerophosphates contained in Vinol were just what this little boy needed to restore him to health. We strongly recommend Vinol.
